INVENTS PROCESS TO MAKE GAS FROM COAL

Youngstown, Jan. 14.—W. E. Elliott, of Struthers, a gas expert for steel companies, announced today that he had been granted a patent for a new process of manufacturing gas from coal, which he declares will revolutionize the industry. His invention which is given credit for breaking a tonnage record at a Struthers blast furnace, will make 57,000 cubic feet of gas from a ton of slack, compared with 14,000 for the present methods, Elliott says. He claims that the product affords 50 per cent heat and says it can be produced for 15 cents a thousand. Cost of present production, state figures show is about 22 cents a thousand. Elliott says his success "in gasifying" all by-product is responsible for the efficiency of his method.

NO HOPE FOR TREATY BEFORE LEAGUE MEETS

Washington, Jan. 14.—Prospects of ratification of the peace treaty with Germany by the senate before Friday, the day of the initial meeting of the League of Nations council, had been abandoned today by leaders of all factions involved in the controversy. William Jennings Bryan in telegrams to a number of members of the senate a few days ago urged that the treaty be ratified before the league council met so that the United States might participate.

Among Democratic senators, however, there was a well defined feeling that next week might bring an agreement on reservations which soon thereafter would result in another ratification vote. Republican leaders, particularly those of the mild reservation group, viewed the compromise negotiations of the last few days as promising.

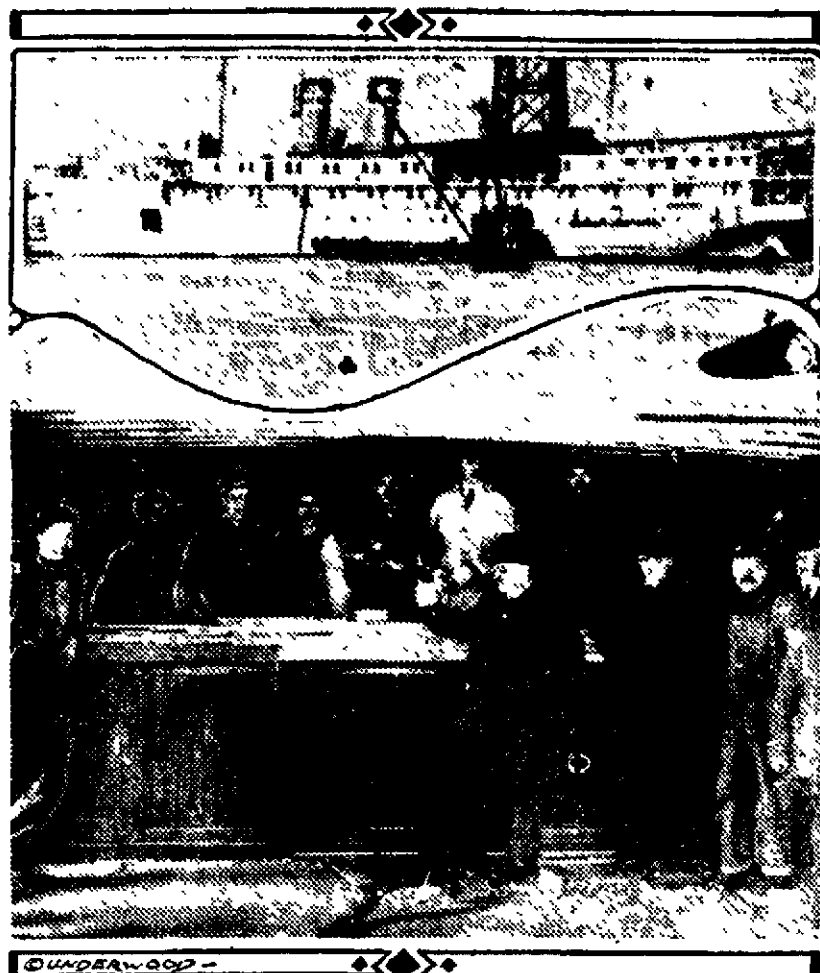

Statements of Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, and Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, given separately yesterday to a delegation representing organizations seeking early ratification through compromise, were pointed to today as indicating that Republicans and Democrats had prepared the way for reaching common ground. Both leaders emphasized in their statements that each side would have to make and was willing to make concessions.

Because of its possible effect on the treaty controversy, senators on both sides of the chamber showed great interest today in the Democratic leadership caucus, set for tomorrow. Senators Underwood, Alabama, and Hitchcock are candidates for party leaders to succeed the late Senator Martin, of Virginia.

FIRST FLOATING BAR IS FITTED OUT FOR RUN BETWEEN DRY U. S. SHORE AND OASIS

Steamship "City of Miami" and glimpse of elaborate bar being installed on ship.

The steamship "City of Miami," formerly the South Haven and known as the "White Flier of the Lakes," is being refitted by New York and Milwaukee capitalists to ply between Miami, Fla., and Havana, Cuba, as a floating bar to take care of thirsty souls. The work, being done at the Fore River shipyards, will cost $300,000. An elaborate bar is being installed on the afterdeck, complete in every detail. E. C. Jones, managing steward of the boat, is shown in the lower photo before the bar, holding a bottle.

PROMPT DISCOVERY PREVENTS BAD FIRE

An overheated chimney in the Mazezy store caused a fire scare this afternoon, called the fire department to the store at noon Wednesday. There was no damage. A board against the flue was almost burned through and smoke revealed the fire danger. The chimney will be rebuilt to remove the menace from fire. It is believed that a serious fire would have followed if the chimney had become overheated at night instead of during the day when prompt discovery prevented serious consequences.

DR. RICHARDS HAS NO INTENTION OF RESIGNING

Dr. S. S. Richards states that a number of his friends are laboring under a misapprehension regarding his threatened resignation as coroner. He states that he only informed the undertaker the other day when called upon that he did not care to investigate any more sudden deaths until he knew that it was a case demanding official action. Payment had been refused in several cases where he had viewed bodies and he could not afford to make such trips unless he knew that he would be compensated for his services.

BANK BANDIT SENTENCED. Ashtabula, Jan. 14.—Joe Corusiedec, of Monessen, Pa., a bandit who was captured at the time of the attempted robbery of the Orwell bank, when two of his companions were shot dead by a sheriff's posse, was sentenced today to the Ohio penitentiary by Judge J. W. Roberts at Jefferson, the county seat.

LOUISVILLE PHYSICIAN ESCAPES INDICTMENT

Louisville, Jan. 14.—Dr. Christopher G. Schott, of the Jefferson county grand jury yesterday refused to indict on the charge of murder, feeling that his theory that Elizabeth Griffith, his office girl, shot and killed herself has been vindicated.

"Truth will prevail," he is quoted as having said when the grand jury's report was read in court. "I have never worried about the case," he added. "I always thought everything would come out all right. Of course I feel gratified at this complete vindication."

The view of Mrs. John Griffith, mother of the dead girl, was that her daughter did not commit suicide. "There is another and higher court," she said, "and as sure as there is a God in heaven the guilty will be punished."

A feature of the case not without interest was the statement of court officials that if the suicide theory subsequently is rejected, the testimony taken at the present inquiry may be submitted to future grand juries.

MARTIAL LAW

The west entrance of the building. A score of men attacked several guards who were rushing away from them just as soldiers rushed up and then general firing began. When the mob ran into the street fronting the southern side of the edifice, soldiers stationed there suspected they would be attacked and immediately fired a fusillade. Six slightly wounded civilians were carried into the Reichstag building, a dozen others were transferred to the guard house near the Brandenburg gate and a number were carried off by members of the sanitary corps.

The Reichstag temporarily adjourned amid great confusion. President Fehrenbach was obliged to leave the chair but was unable to control the situation. Members of various parties engaged in violent recriminations, and members of the cabinet left the chamber. A shot fired from a point directly in front of the Bismarck monument entered the huge glass door leading to the lobby which was crowded with agitated deputies. The bullet passed a few feet from the spot where the correspondent was in conversation with Herr Stresemann, a national Liberal member of the Reichstag.

When the troops dispersed the crowd outside the building they extended their cord in the direction of the Unter den Linden where throngs filled the streets. An officer who chanced along was severely beaten by the crowd.

After a short recess the house visibly quieted down and President Fehrenbach told the deputies the day's casualties had reached a total which would occasion profound regret and that further deliberations could, under the circumstances, hardly be expected to continue with the necessary calm. He suggested an adjournment until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The deputies then left the chamber.

Independent Socialist leaders plan to continue demonstrations whenever the industrial councils bill is up for debate and it is expected the climax will be reached Thursday, which is the anniversary of the death of Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, radical leaders, who were slain while being taken to Moabit prison.

The entente missions arriving here today are reported to have indicated their intention to call their governments for military protection if demonstrations here are threatening. Tonight Noske's troops placed rifle-men with a barbed wire cordon through out the downtown streets. The Reichstag building was closed and the Wilhelmstrasse was barred to all traffic and the government building was virtually inaccessible except to those employed there.

The Unter den Linden entrance to the Hotel Adlon was closed and darkened. The members of the assembly were not molested as they left the Reichstag building after adjournment was taken.

TWO FRENCH COMEDIES WILL BE PRESENTED BY LANGUAGE CLASSES

Score of Students From Advanced French Sections Have Part in the Cast—Synopsis of Plays, With Cast of Characters.

A French play will be staged at Denison, under direction of Miss Robinson of the English department and of Prof. Odebrecht of the French department. This performance is scheduled for the evening of Friday, January 23 in Recital hall at 7:30 o'clock. Rehearsals have been carried on for several weeks and with the score of students from the advanced French sections appearing in the cast.

Synopses of the two plays, "Les Precieuses Ridicules" and of "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" are given. Ballet and music are of the 17th century. In France, stage settings and properties, costumes and accessories have been carefully planned.

"Les Precieuses Ridicules," a comedy in one act, by Moliere. Characters named in order of appearance: LeGrange, a rejected lover—Ernest T. Owen; Du Croisy, a rejected lover—T. S. Waddell; Gorgibus, an old man of the middle class—G. K. Marquay; Magdeon, daughter of Gorgibus—Letha Winice; Cathos, niece of Gorgibus—Anna McKenna; Marotte, servant of Magdeon and Cathos—Melba Levering; Mascarille, valet of LaGrange—Prof. A. Odebrecht.

First Porter—Alden J. Ward. Second Porter—Walter Kull. Almanzor, lackey of Magdeon and Cathos—Walter Kull. Jodelle, valet of Du Croisy—Roland Sheets.

Scene—The home of Gorgibus. Time—1659.

Synopsis—LaGrange and Du Croisy call upon Magdeon and Cathos, two young girls who have come up to Paris from the provinces, and offer them marriage. The girls reject them because they do not speak the "precieux" language, that is, the affected speech of certain salons of the day. The young men excuse themselves. Gorgibus, the father of Magdeon and Cathos, but plan to have vengeance by sending their valets, Mascarille and Jodelle, to pay court to them. A somewhat stormy scene follows between Gorgibus and the girls, in which the former chides his daughter and his niece for their lack of common sense. Then Morotte, the plain, blunt serving-girl of the "precieuses," announces a caller, a marquis, and with ready consent of Magdeon and Cathos, ushers in Mascarille, dressed as a courtier. The girls are charmed by his manners and speech, a typical "precieux" conversation ensues, during the course of which Mascarille

WINS $100 AWARD WITH LIMERICK

Robert G. Bell of Jamaica, Long Island, who married Miss Stella Cane received a check for $100 from the New York News last week as the prize for the best "lost line" in a limerick contest. Bell was astounded to learn that that day's contest had brought in 1,000 answers, and that the answer he had evolved in an idle after-dinner hour had brought in so rich a reward.

COMMUNITY FEDERATION

WORKING FOR VILLAGE

Mrs. M. E. Stickney is president of the Community federation of Granville women, which with the exception of the King's Daughters, is of more practical importance to the community than is any other woman's organization in the village. The direct outcome of women's war work organized and conducted in the township, the federation is working for "the promotion of ideal conditions in Granville." Among the successful projects already accomplished are: the thousand dollar drive for library funds; the equipping and maintaining of club and rest rooms for the use of women; the affiliation of 16 local clubs already using the Community rooms for their regular meetings; the Community Christmas celebration, etc. Mrs. Stickney who was formerly Miss Edith Bell of Mt. Vernon, a student of Denison for one year preceding a three year course and graduation from Vassar college, is thoroughly alive in the possibilities of the federation, in the way of public service. She has been a resident of the village since her marriage in 1912 to Malcolm E. Stickney, professor of Botany in Denison. She served as president of the Travelers club for three years, and is now vice president of the Women's Music club. The vice president of the federation is Mrs. A. P. Nichol; treasurer Mrs. James A. Huston; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George E. Jones; press correspondent, Mrs. Case. The council is composed of this executive committee and the presiding officers of the affiliated organizations, who determine what business shall be recommended to the federation for action, thus conserving effort and eliminating friction.

SCHUMANN PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY CLUB

The first of the Schumann programs planned for the Women's Music club, postponed from last week, was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Darrow before members, associates and guests of the club.

Mrs. C. B. White gave a brief talk on the life and work of Robert Schumann and she presided during the course of the seven remaining programs to bring out many hitherto unnoted facts in regard to this master.

The musical numbers opened with the "Symphony in B-flat Major, op. 20" played on two pianos by Mrs. Darrow and Mrs. C. B. White.

"Humoresque, op. 20," Miss Leslie Larkin.

Songs—"With Myrtle and Roses," Mrs. Roe Morrow. "They'd Like to be a Flower," "Dedication," Miss LaFerre. "Pavilions op. 2," Mrs. Darrow.

Part Songs—"Deck We the Pathway,"

RIFLE RANGE TO BE ESTABLISHED

New Feature For Denison Cadets Is Included in the Plans for University Athletic Field.

A rifle range will be one of the features of the new athletic field according to the statement of Major Charles B. Clark, who commands the R. O. T. C. unit at Denison university. The regulation Springfield rifle will be used but as the equipment will only include a gallery range of 50 and 75 feet the rifles will be used for a special use cartridge. Aside from the use of the range for the practice of the cadet corps there will undoubtedly be a number of intercollegiate rifle matches held here, correspondence for which is now being carried on.

The unit is making use of the period of leave to its being issued as necessary class room work which is essential to the outdoor drill which will come as soon as the spring opens up. The necessary equipment for the unit is expected to arrive as soon as the winter weather has cleared and the issued is completed. The college authorities have signed a bond for more than $12,000 to insure the proper care of the material which will be loaned to them by the war department.

MRS DORSEY IS GUEST AT UNIQUE DINNER.

As an example of "something different" in dinner parties, the account of a New Year's eve dinner party given in Gloster, Mass., by John Hays Hammond, Jr., millionaire inventor of explosives and research scientist for Uncle Sam during the war, is told in a letter written by Mrs. Herbert G. Dorsey to her husband's mother, Mrs. E. J. Dorsey. Dr. Dorsey is associated with Mr. Hammond in important scientific research and the relations between the two of them are the subject of paragraphs from Mrs. Dorsey's letter follow:

"We were invited to Mr. Hammond's for a dinner party New Year's eve, at which there were 25 guests from Boston and various other places and where we were the only ones from Gloster. It was a wonderfully unique affair with every one in fancy dress. The menu was copied from the bill of fare of some old famous English tavern, and everything was carried out in character. To begin with, the table was a wonder. A great long one, and extending down the entire center of it was a lovely miniature garden, real rocks, ferns, mosses, and pine trees, miniature lakes with real gold fish and toy docks and swans, boats and statuary. At the very center of the table and of the garden was a battle scene taken from an important engagement of the late war and arranged with toy soldiers, guns, cannons, etc. The table was lighted by candles in massive candlesticks and at each place were several toy noise-making devices. Each course was announced in most unique manner, for instance, preceding the ox-tail soup, an Italian in fancy costume marched in with an immense tray on which was a great ox head. He marched round the table, followed by the Italian chef, bearing a great pewter bowl of steaming soup on an immense tray. Then just before the goose, which was stuffed with chicken and stuffed with duck and the duck stuffed with tongue, the chef marched about the table with that magnificent fowl sitting upon a tray fixed up in a wonderful manner. Just before the plum pudding was served, a fierce looking dragon came in and circled the table several times followed by the chef bearing a tray upon his head on which was a great pudding in flames. The pudding was sent over from England. Of course we greeted all these animals with our noise-making devices and it was all—well, simply corking. After dinner we had fire works and music on the organ which Jack has just had installed. Just before 12 midnight, a wretched old man appeared, representing all the terrible things of 1919, King Barleycorn, Carrazza, Bolshevik, etc., and made a farewell address. Then Old Father Time as 1919 appeared and said farewell, when in rushed 1920, a dainty little golden-haired girl in a stuffy white and silver spangled dress and carrying an armful of white carnations which she presented to each guest."

CO-OPERATION OF PARENTS HELPS LOCAL SCHOOLS

"The Granville public schools have had thus far a very profitable and enjoyable year," says Supt. Conklin. "The boys and girls, on the whole have been working diligently, and at the same time have held a strong interest in the school activities and a good school spirit has been felt at all times. This is due largely to three factors.

"The good feeling and hearty cooperation among the teachers. The faculty very quickly defined its policy at the beginning of the year and has carried it out through the hearty cooperation and the desire of the teachers to give to the people of Granville one of the best schools they have ever had.

"The pupils have shown their appreciation through their constant loyalty and support, and their willingness to do anything that will be for the good and the betterment of the school.

"The interest held by the parents in the school, shown by their visits to the school and their willingness to do what they can to assist the teachers in their work, has gone a long way to help maintain a high success.

"The high school paper is a new project this year and has already proved to be a success. Two hundred and fifty copies were not sufficient to supply the demand for the Christmas number. The paper is being edited under the direction of Mr. Corn H. Doehle, man of the English department."

The school enrollment at present is as follows:

First grade	37
Second grade	29
Third grade	18
Fourth grade	21
Fifth grade	34
Sixth grade	35
Junior high school	104
Senior high school	78

Miss Mary Geach will entertain Mrs. Tuttle's Bible class of young women, which will hold its regular meeting Friday evening at 7 o'clock, at the Geach home, in Granger street.

CONCERT TENOR IS SIX FOOTER

Ernest Davis, tenor who was the sensation of the year in the East, is a giant physically and vocally. Davis stands six feet one inch in his socks, and tips the scales at two hundred and ten pounds. In this respect the Kanawha is unique for it is a well known fact that tenors are usually short and fat. Davis appears Saturday evening on the Granville Festival course.

The altitude and volume of Davis' voice is in keeping with his physique. He possesses a most lyrical, dramatic, thrilling in resonance and tonal beauty and of tremendous range. A high D in song is easily by this young giant as a B-flat is by many, and the higher he goes the more appealing and lovely his voice becomes.

THE HIGHER LEVEL.

Some enthusiastic feelings and utterances of the war period seem rather overwrought now. If one would look back 18 months and read a lot of these orations and sermons, he might feel some eloquent people got far up in the air at that time.

It was commonly remarked then, that the war would make a complete revolution in thought. A new era was going to dawn. People had been lifted up by their sacrifice and were not going to return to old selfish lives.

It is now the cool gray dawn of the morning after. The old United States seems to most people about the same place that it ever was, except for high prices and extravagance and strikes and other troubles of the times. Were all those generous ideals that but mere illusions?

Forms of government may change, laws may change, political parties may change, but human nature runs along about the same. The evils of human nature and society are ameliorated only as the result of long, patient and faithful effort.

Great changes must come to this country as the result of this war. But the human understanding takes in new ideas slowly. Perhaps it is the best that it should, since so many experiments prove unsatisfactory.

But one can already see new forces at work. Never before were people so willing to give money and work for public causes. Never before was there so much effort to improve the condition of the toiling masses. The fine spirit shown by the returned soldiers, the determination of the American legion to promote good citizenship, are typical signs of the times. With these and other forces at work, the buoyant hopes of the war period may be realized much sooner than some people now feel.

AGE AND YOUTH.

The death of Sir William Osler has recalled to many people the famous remark attributed to this noted physician, that people over 60 years have ceased to be useful and should be chloroformed. The serious and world wide attention given to this remark, was an interesting illustration of the vast numbers of people who do not know how to take a joke.

The world makes greater use of both of age and of youth than it used to. Formerly the youth was despised, and the young fellow under thirty could scarcely get a hearing among the wise men. Today educated youth quickly takes a leading part in executive councils.

Also the world realizes the value of the cumulative experience acquired by the old man. The late war was fought in the field by young men. Yet the counselors who directed it were largely old men. If old age can act, it can find plenty of work to do, and if youth can think, it will at once be recognized.

The fullness of the waste baskets about now may be accounted for by the recent harvest of January 1 bids.

WARNING TO MOTOR THIEVES.

The new national federal law places heavy penalties on transporting a stolen automobile for one state to another. The motor thief's nefarious traffic was formerly promoted by the ease with which a stolen car could be taken across state lines and sold far away.

Whether the crooks will risk a five year jail term rather than work the cars off near home, is an interesting problem in criminal psychology. The automobile organizations and the police should insist that dealers in second hand cars co-operate in efforts to stop this exceedingly common crime. The second hand dealer who buys cars of strangers without asking questions, is a man who needs watching.

The capitalists have ceased their wails about the excess profits taxes, since they found that they could add these taxes to the cost of their goods, with a margin on top of that for interest.

Owing to the fact that silk shirts cost $12.00, silk stockings $2.50 up, and fur coats $300.00 and up, there has got to be another advance in wages all around.

The government has always wasted many millions, but none of these leaks can be stopped, as every one of 'em is in some congressman's district.

Congress is going to make a new law against wood alcohol liquor, and also it should make another law that there shall not be any fools born.

WHEN COAL IS GONE.

(Indianapolis Star)
Whatever he thought of Sir Oliver Lodge's belief in the possibility of communication with the dead—a subject on which the opinion of the layman is of as much value as that of the scientist—his vague in science, especially in chemistry and electrical development, is considerable. When he predicts, therefore, as he is lately reported to have done, that a time would come when atomic energy would take the place of coal as the source of power, he must be listened to with respect.

Sir Oliver thinks we are on the verge of a discovery by which the waste energy of atoms may be controlled and utilized, and says by way of illustration that a radium atom firing off a particle will turn out to be a positively charged atom of helium is like a two-ton gun firing a 100-pound shot. Before it has exhausted its ammunition, it fires off five such projectiles and then settles down into a quieter existence as a chemically inert, indistinguishable from that substance. When these active transformations have ceased and have left the atoms in a stable state, as lead, gold, silver, copper, iron, or any common element, it is not to be supposed, he declares, that it is not to be supposed, that they have no store of internal energy left. He believes that when the secret of developing and using the hidden chemical power is mastered, instead of burning 1,000 tons of coal, men will take energy out of an ounce or two of matter.

This is bewildering to the non-scientific person, but now comes an American scientist who asserts his belief that the energy of the atmosphere is sufficient to replace fuel for all purposes. This is Mr. H. H. Platt of Philadelphia, read a paper before the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in St. Louis in which he urged scientists to use their efforts to bring about release of this fuel so as to relieve "our oppressed humanity."

With the beautiful prospect ahead of making an ounce or two of matter or a chemical draft on the atmosphere take the place of 1,000 tons of coal, life will be on a new step and the joy of it will greatly increase. Anxiety as to the coal bins and the price of coal will cease; there will be no smoke, no soot, no miners' strikes, no wearisome transition among authorities, workmen and speculators. Railroads will have no excuse for not running, controversies of many kinds in connection with the high cost of living will cease, and if peace does not prevail then peace can never reign in this vale of tears. At all events, the scientists offer hope and desire that.

TWO DIFFERENT CASES.

(Cincinnati Gazette Times)
There is a wide difference between the case of Victor L. Berger, excluded from the House of Representatives, and that of the five Socialists members of the New York Assembly who were suspended by that body. Berger is disqualified because he simply cannot take the requisite oath to support the Constitution and uphold the laws of the United States. He is an avowed enemy of the government of this country and stands convicted of virtual treason. He is denied a seat in Congress in consequence of his own acts. The Fifth District of Wisconsin cannot force an un-American into the Congress. The alleged grounds of the suspension of the New York men are that as members of the Socialist party they are

Married Strangers

A powerful story dealing with a problem being worked out in thousands of American homes to-day—that of the husband and wife who find they grow apart while the man goes off to war.

LI.—Enter Tom Moore.

Keitha hesitated before replying to Mrs. Arnold's question about Marcia Holmes.

"That the mention of Tasker Bland Holmes' name had twice created the same impression of horrified disbelief, first with Captain Sinclair, and later with Mrs. Arnold disturbed Keitha mightily. Obviously, Holmes was a well-known figure in that part of the world and equally obviously, he had not been in good repute. What was the nature of the mystery concerning Marcia's war bridegroom was not shrank from asking. It seemed somehow disloyal to Marcia.

Mrs. Arnold tactfully changed her question. Her air of uncertainty had increased and her hands moved nervously among the array of silver at her elbow.

"I am sure your friend was a war bride?"

"Yes," replied Keitha quickly. "She met Lieutenant Holmes when he was at a training camp. It was a whirlwind courtship, I believe."

"Indeed? How romantic," murmured Mrs. Arnold. "Tasker Holmes was handsome enough to be the hero of a novel. I had not heard that he was killed."

"Yes—knew him?" Keitha voiced the question with inward trepidation.

Mrs. Arnold's restless eyes became suddenly focussed on her salad fork.

"I've heard of him," she replied with a sort of nervous haste. "I—er—it's rather odd how we Californians seem to know everybody," she rushed on. "I dare say it's because we visit around so much."

"How nice. You seem so much more neighborly than easterners," smiled Keitha absently, not knowing whether it was so or not, but glad that her hostess had thrown her a cue for a change of subject.

"Can't we speed the desert and coffee up a bit, mother?" Betty Arnold's hand broke in upon the conversation. "We'll be horribly late for the theater."

It was the first remark she had contributed to the table and she returned immediately to her low-voiced tete-a-tete with Fennett.

Mrs. Arnold gave a whispered order to the Jap butler, glancing at her jeweled wrist watch.

Keitha flushed a trifle and was angry at herself for her sensitiveness. It was not Betty Arnold's words, so much as her tone, which implied a rebuke for the guests' tardiness.

The dinner party was finished in short order, and a little Japanese maid brought the women's wraps.

Anita, who had devoted her entire attention during dinner to the entertainment of Mr. Arnold, a quiet, rather sinister looking man whose best point had unmistakably been inherited by his daughter, wrapped herself in a gorgeous creation of cloth of gold shot with oriole.

Betty Arnold quivered her flame-colored velvet in a cloak of snowy fur. Only Keitha and her hostess wore dark wraps.

The Arnolds had it box at the play. They entered during the first intermission when the wandering glances of the whole house focussed upon them. As they settled in the glare of the proscenium arch like a group of brilliant butterflies, the colored figures rose from different parts of the house and sauntered in their direction. The box soon became a drawing room. It seemed to Keitha that she met the entire masculine contingent of San Francisco society.

Anita was coquettishly vivacious, but Betty Arnold preserved comparative silence, using her great eyes and the graceful disposal of her slim body for her effect. Occasionally she drew some remark as to her frank exposure of shoulders and ankles.

Keitha, receiving the homage always directed toward a pretty stranger turned from one newly-presented man toward his companion, and cried delightfully:

"Tom Moore! How perfectly delicious to find you here."

Milady's Boudoir

Good Health in Winter.

Women who disregard their health in winter by doing all sorts of unwise and foolish things, as a rule are those who suffer for weeks of the cold weather with colds and coughs they cannot seem to cure, and this condition in itself makes them an easy prey to pneumonia, typhoid fever and other forms of serious illnesses, encouraged by a lowered vitality. The lower animals are clad in their coats and habits in winter and nature intends that we, in cold climates, shall also protect ourselves against the cold.

Maintaining good health and beauty in winter is largely a question of common sense, not so common, however, as to be universal. To be sure we may blame the ever changeable weather for much illness, but it stands to reason that when the heat is guarded by safe and sane living conditions, women will be less susceptible to changes of temperature.

Many women strenuously object to having their hair flimsy and frivolous, clinging to their heads, and the woolsens of winter. Just the same, weight is usually worn the year round. No matter how freezing or inclement the weather, the body is lightly clad and the throat and wrists only are swaddled in light in weight and comfortably warm. A thin, anemic woman naturally feels the cold more than a fleshy woman having rich blood, therefore a heavier weight of underwear should be worn by the former.

The life giving heat of the body must be conserved and this is impossible when silk vests and crepe de chine or batiste underwear is worn. A combination suit of wool and silk, or cotton and silk, provides ample warmth for the entire body, especially for the back and chest where protection is needed for the lungs. Before going out in severe weather it is advisable to thoroughly rub the exposed portions with alcohol. This closes the pores and makes one less susceptible to the penetrating cold.

Josie McLaughlin Elliott.

In memory of our dear daughter and sister, Josie McLaughlin Elliott, who died four years ago today, January 14, 1916.

Do not ask us if we miss her. Polks may think the wound is healed, but little do they know the sorrow that lies with our hearts concealed. The month of January again is here. To us the saddest of the year. Because it took our dear one away just four years ago today. Sad and sudden was the call. Her memory is as dear today. As it was the day she passed away. 14-15x Mother and Sisters

Our Boys and Girls

The fact that your children do not annoy you is not sufficient excuse for neglecting them. The attention of every caller that comes to your home. Your children should be taught not to annoy others. Your boys should learn to wait for all women to pass through a door first and also into a public conveyance. Many of them, to the discredit of the home teachers, push and jostle their way through company without regard to the rules of politeness and monopolize the most comfortable seats at the table, in the rooms and in vehicles. Children should be taught to use the right individual judgment from infancy. If the child is continually told to do or not to do this and that, he is often seriously handicapped later in life because he does not know how to use his own reasoning faculties in making a choice of action. On the other hand obedience is one of the most difficult lessons for children to learn. For the most part the mother can exert her control otherwise than by commands, and if she does so, her authority when exercised will have greater force and instant obedience will be readily given.

Everyday Etiquette

"Will you please tell me the proper way a man in uniform should greet a young lady in public?" asked Kate. "Military regulations do not permit a soldier in uniform to remove his hat on the street even to greet a lady. He should give her a military salute, the same as to a superior officer," replied a military friend of hers.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

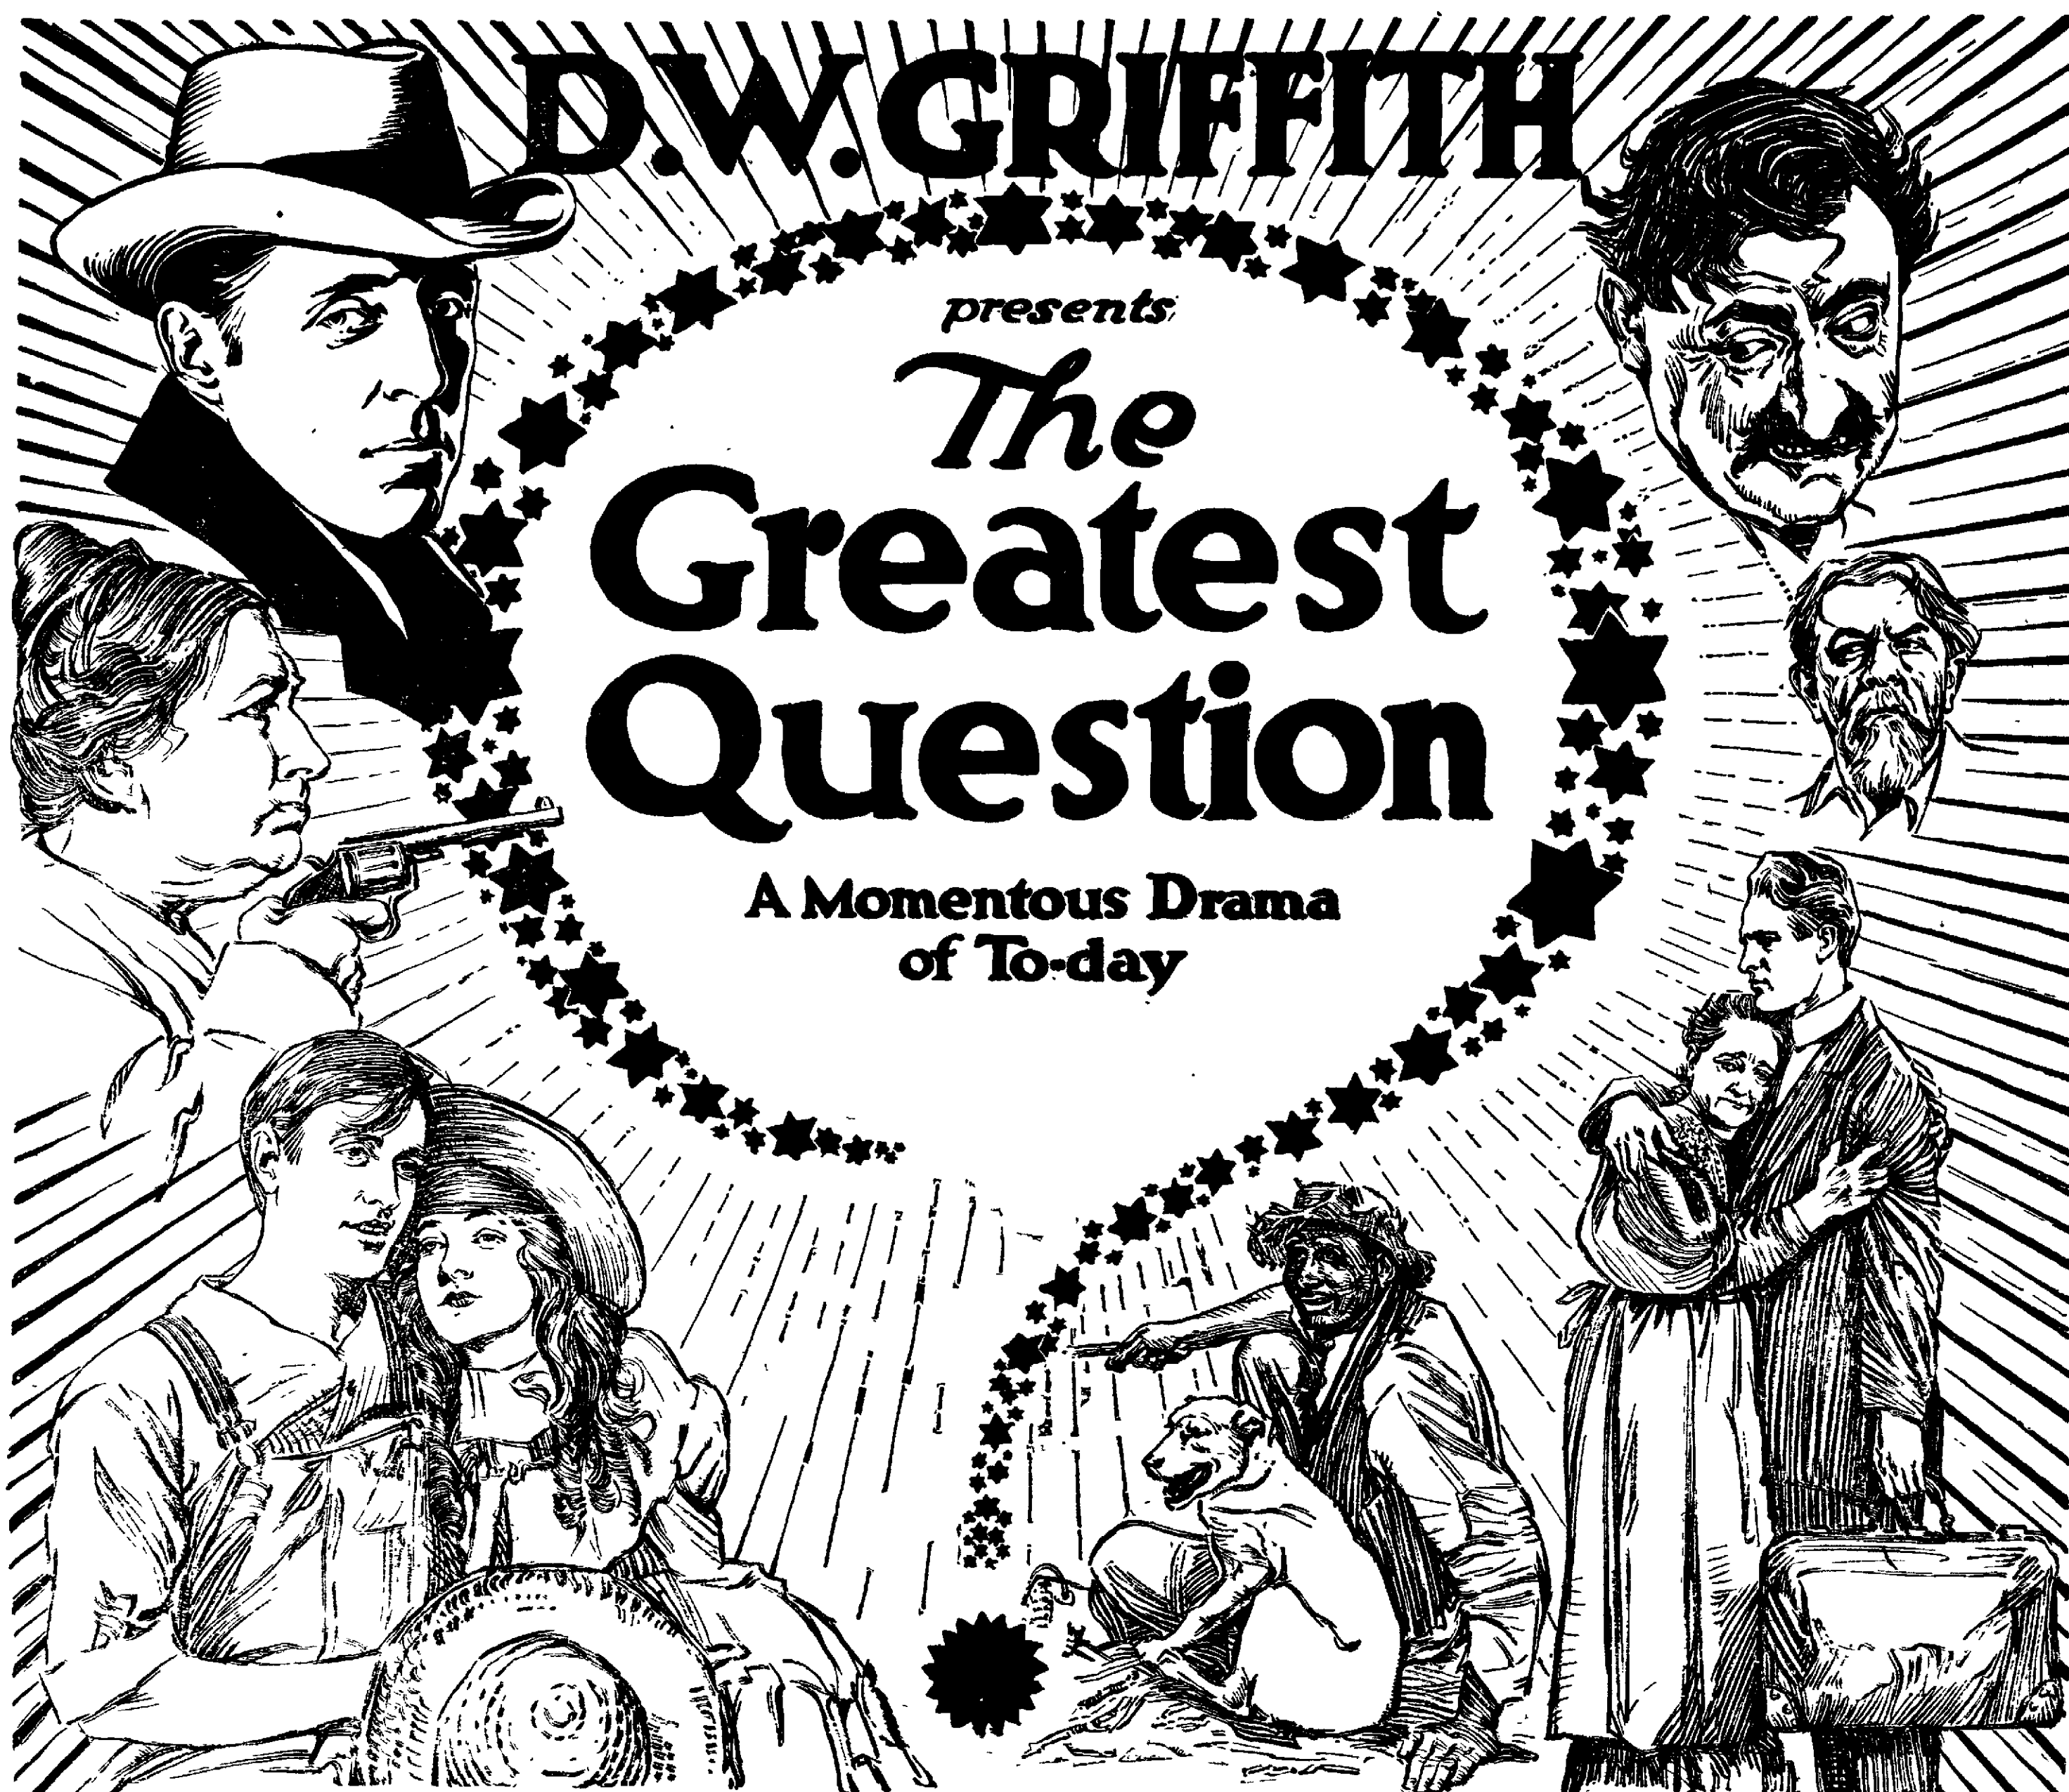

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

"A Misfit Earl."
Thousands of square miles of America know but three seasons: July, August and winter. Those who follow the styles know little of the light with the seasons which the farmers and ranchers of America's Northwest are always called upon to face. Some idea of the fury of midwinter in a tiny western town has been revealed in Louis Bennison's latest Betzwood picture, "A Misfit Earl," which is distributed by Goldwyn and will be presented at the Alhambra theater, beginning tomorrow. In the picture, the little hut in which Ellen Mortimer lives with her young son, Sam, and her nephew, Jim Rynn, (Louis Bennison), is guarded against the terrors which a thermometer registering 40 degrees below zero indicates. Every crack in the walls is stuffed with cotton from an old comforter, the windows are sealed and the crevices in the frame filled. Still the cold seeps

OHIO WOMEN

Cleveland, Ohio—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age. I was in a miserable condition a year or so before I reached the climacteric. My bladder gave me so much distress and I suffered with inflammation and displacement. I don't believe any woman could be more uncomfortable than I was when I started to take the 'Favorite Prescription.' My improvement was so slow at first that I became impatient and wrote to the Invalids' Hotel for advice, which was given me freely, and very kindly. By following this advice I was eventually restored to a healthy condition. I am now safely through this trying time and have 'Favorite Prescription' to thank for my present good health, so do not think that I am making any mistake in advising other women who are distressed at this time to give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a trial."—Mrs. J. Conneaut, Ohio—"In my young womanhood I used to suffer severely at certain times until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine not only cured me of this condition but it laid the foundation for a healthy womanhood. I highly recommend the 'Prescription' to all young girls who suffer with inward trouble or periodical pains and I would never hesitate in giving 'Favorite Prescription' to my own daughters if they were in need of such medicine."—Mrs. SARAH HILDEBRAND, 329 Harbor St.

Hague Ave., "I was unable to escape in any way from the suffering I had endured for three years. I was compelled to give up my work, and eating caused me misery. Then I heard of Dr. Parker's Treatment and after taking four boxes I felt entirely cured and enjoyed perfect health to this day. I know a great many others who have had the same experience as myself, and I fully believe Dr. Parker's Treatment for Indigestion and Constipation will cure the worst case if taken as recommended. If you are not feeling right, do as Mr. Kerns did. If one $1.25 box does not improve your health, your money will be returned.

Try Musterole. See How Quickly It Relieves

You just rub Musterole in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister. Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest. Always dependable.

World," etc., comes along now with another picture that is really a most worthy one. In the cast besides Lillian Fish is seen George Fawcett, Eugene Bessner, Robert Harron, Ralph Graves, George Nichols, Josephine Crowell, Tom Wilson and others. The story:

Fate decreed that Nellie Jones must be a peddler's daughter. From the time she was four years old, she remembered riding along country roads with her mother and father. Life was a routine with her, except for the little tinge of memory that told her that somewhere she had seen a girl beaten to death. But with the sorrow of her father's death, that memory faded. Then—then her mother died she was left an orphan, a mere slip of a little girl hardly able to understand she was alone in the world.

The Hilton family, although very poor, adored Nellie. The head of the household, who hadn't worked in years because of paralysis, is rather inclined to think Nellie an unnecessary hand; but John and Jimmie Hilton and Mrs. Hilton find room for her.

Passing years bring the war cloud. John, the eldest son, is drafted, while Mrs. Hilton, Nellie and Jimmie bravely undertake to make the farm produce enough food to keep body and soul together. But the farmhand is apparently unsuited to agricultural work. A stocky substance resists cultivation.

Determined to be of some assistance to the family, Nellie hires herself out as a servant girl to the Scrubbles, a neighboring couple with flimsy instincts. There Nellie suffers the advances of a brute old enough to be her grandfather and the lashes of old Lady Scrubbles' cat—inevitable.

However, Nellie sticks to her job and when she sees what her few dollars mean to the family, she grits her teeth and gives up all hope of leaving the place.

Mrs. Hilton brags—like every other mother—that her eldest boy shall be returned safe to her. She calls upon a merciful God to watch over her lad. Her faith leads her to think that her applications will not go unheeded. Then, like a torrential storm, she is notified that her son met death by drowning—swept from the coming tower of a submarine when the underwater craft was forced to submerge to save herself.

The blow is too much for the heart-broken father, his faith already weary as a result of continual reverses. It is impossible for the younger son to manage the farm. Old Man Hilton decides

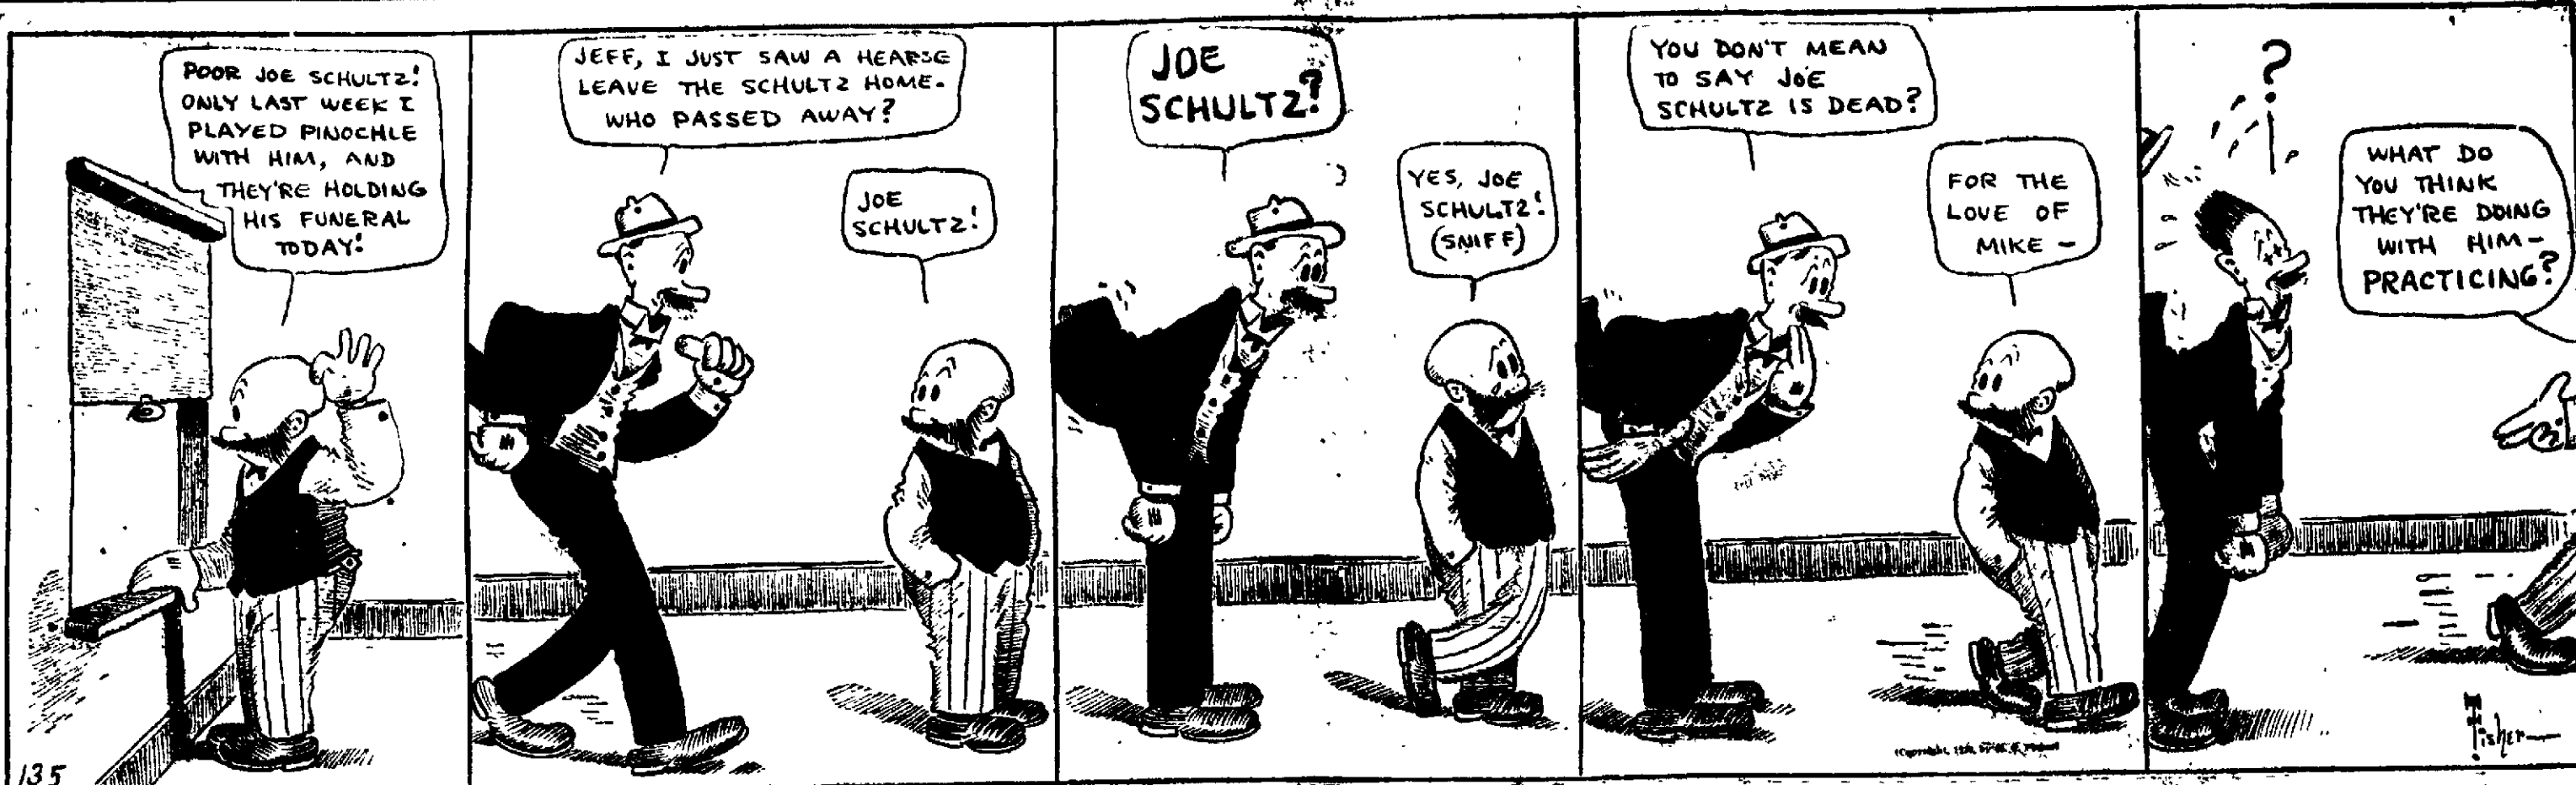

The musical comedy sensation "The Grass Widow" from the Liberty and Princess theaters, New York, with its brilliant song numbers, its clever dance divertissements, its gorgeous costuming and its stage settings of wondrous outdoor beauty will be the attraction at the Auditorium theater next Tuesday night, bringing with it a cast of metropolitan favorites including a chorus of well-trained good-looking young ladies. Many of them not even out of their teens. Book and lyrics by Channing

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, Jan. 14.—Bullies took place in the corn market today from depression which showed itself at the outset. Opening prices, which ranged from a quarter to one cent lower, with May $1.31 3/4 to 1.32 1/4, and July $1.30 to 1.31 1/4, were followed by a jump back to yesterday's finish or above.
Oats were ruled by the fluctuations in corn. After opening unchanged to a half cent lower, including May at 80 1/2 to 80 3/4, the market scored a slight advance.
Higher quotations on hogs tended to steady the provision list. Estimates were current that the forthcoming report of the number of hogs in the country would show a reduction of 10 per cent as compared with a year ago.

AFTER TWO YEARS HE MAKES REPORT

This man, now living in Columbus, took Dreco two years ago, and declares his troubles never returned, showing results were permanent.

Suffered from stomach trouble, indigestion, gastritis, and constipation.

We have many reports showing that the effects received from taking Dreco are permanent, and that it does not just boost you up while you are taking it. Dreco accomplishes its work by acting on the vital organs to restore them to healthy action. Therefore, the good you get from Dreco stays with you.

"I have just moved to Columbus from Clarksville, W. Va.," stated Mr. Thomas Dolans, in Mykranitz Drug Store, a few days ago, and he is on sale here, came in to report my experience with it. Over two years ago I took Dreco for a bad case of stomach trouble. I was almost past going when I started to take it. All my food disagreed with me, causing severe pain, belching, acid risings, gastritis, and I was badly constipated. Dreco acted very quickly for me and relieved all of these troubles. In all of these two years I have not been troubled again, which shows that Dreco gave me complete and permanent relief."

Being a natural herb medicine, Dreco acts in a natural manner by restoring the organs to healthy action, and not by exciting them and forcing action. This makes permanent results. Dreco rouses a sluggish liver to full action, strengthens the kidneys, aids the stomach in carrying its load, overcomes constipation, increases the appetite and induces sound sleep. Dreco is a vegetable remedy, made from roots, herbs, barks and berries.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in Newark by Evans' Cut Rate Drug store—Adv.

CHARGE TWO WITH STEALING FROM CAR

Affidavits were filed today against Carl Siegel and Wilbur Wright by Detective Henry Smith of the Pennsylvania railway, charging them with breaking into a freight car and stealing a quantity of candy and tobacco. The young men were arrested by Police Chief Sheridan Monday and held for investigation. They will be arraigned in municipal court later.

SEARCH HERE FOR PULLMAN CAR THIEF

Police Chief James Sheridan and Detective Smith of the Pennsylvania railway were on the lookout in this city yesterday for a man who stole $5,000 worth of diamonds, $100 worth of money and wearing apparel from a man in a Pullman sleeper bound from Cincinnati to New York. It is believed the thief left the train in this city.

WANTED—RED-BLOODED MEN!

Happy and Successful People Everywhere Are Always in Great Demand.

Best Friends—Red-Blooded.

Pepto-Mangan Produces Better Blood—Sold in Liquid and Tablet Form.

Get into the red-blooded class if you are not there now. Take a few weeks' course of that splendid tonic—Pepto-Mangan and note how you improve in health and looks. Pepto-Mangan is a red-blood maker and is for sale at the drug store right near your home. It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take which you choose, but see that the name "Gude" is on the package. Without "Gude" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

It is the cry everywhere—"Wanted—Red-Blooded Men." The soldiers and sailors that won the war were red-blooded fellows. Red blood is the life of the man. It is the red-blooded man that stands the strain and wins the big successes. The world has no place for the thin-blooded weakling. It is natural, too, that red-blooded men and women should have more friends and more success. They are better human beings than the thin-blooded anemics, who are likely to be "grouchy" and irritable most of the time—Adv.

EXCESSIVE USE OF TOBACCO AFTER 45 IS SUICIDAL, SAYS DR. HIRSCHFELD

Most men who use tobacco have no idea of the harm tobacco does them because it does it so slowly that no one day's damage is noticeable. In the strength and vigor of young manhood the injury seems trivial but it accumulates day by day and lays the foundation for many troubles later in life. Tobacco lessens the powers of resistance to disease, and along in the late thirties—sometimes much earlier—it begins to tell, and the awful damage it has done begins to show.

Dr. Hirschfeld in his book, "The Heart and Blood Vessels," says excessive use of tobacco after forty-five is suicidal. Authorities agree that excessive use of tobacco causes loss of appetite, cancer of the stomach and intestine, indigestion, headaches, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, irritability, lack of concentration, dimness of vision, loss of willpower, forgetfulness, and many other serious troubles. It also causes a hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure and these are the troubles that manifest themselves along in the forties.

Thousands of men who use tobacco don't know it is injuring their health and from time to time decide to get out from under the supply and use less. Thousands of them would quit but they lack the will-power to stand the awful craving that follows giving up the habit. There is hope and relief for all such if they will let Nicotol set them free. Nicotol has helped thousands to give up the habit or to lessen the supply of tobacco used. It is not habit-forming. It simply kills the craving for tobacco and what the man needs temporarily to brace them up until the nicotine is out of the system.

You can quit tobacco if you want to and will let Nicotol help you. Your druggist has it or can get it.

A grateful user says: "I will be glad to help anyone out in a case like I once had, and now I am at last freed by your wonderful Nicotol. You are perfectly welcome to use my letter to save another victim from that dangerous tobacco habit."

Note: When asked about Nicotol, one of our leading druggists said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit. It is what has been missing in the market for years. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy produced unusual results. We are now authorized to refund the money back—granted by all up-to-date druggists, including T. J. Evans—Adv.

HOW TO HEAL SORE, BLEEDING GUMS TIGHTEN LOOSE TEETH

BEFORE THEY FALL OUT. DENTIST'S HOME PRESCRIPTION WORKS LIKE MAGIC.

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore, tender or inflamed, if they bleed when you brush your teeth, are spongy, flabby or colorless or if they discharge pus or develop gum boils, it is a warning of dangerous Pyorrhea or Riggs disease of the gums and prompt and careful treatment is necessary if you want to save your teeth from falling out.

A prominent New York State dentist has discovered a new prescription—Epithol—for promptly correcting these troubles and it surely seems to work like magic. A few days use and teeth tighten, the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding, poisonous pus discharge soon stops. An ounce jar of Epithol will last for weeks and costs little at T. J. Evans or any good drug store and all these leading druggists will refund the full purchase price if, in any case, it fails to bring relief. No one really wants false teeth. So if you have any of the above symptoms, you should by all means give this treatment a trial.

ELECTRICIAN OF MICHIGAN R. R. FOR NERV-WORTH

"Did More for Me in Two Weeks Than Five Years of Doctoring," Says A. O. Foster.

This remarkable signed statement made a few days ago by Mr. Foster, whose many years of service on the Pere Marquette's Homer street tower, at Lansing, has made him well known and favorably known, is one which every suffering reader should carefully digest.

Sturgis Drug Store—You sure have got a wonderful medicine in that Nerv-Worth. I did more for me in about two weeks than five years' doctoring. I had severe pains in the nerves of my neck and the back of my head. I doctored with several doctors and went to a specialist in Ann Arbor, but the pains were still there. I could not sleep for them. I read some of the testimonials in the papers and decided to try Nerv-Worth. I have used Nerv-Worth about two weeks and the pains have left me, and I can go to bed and sleep like a log.

A. O. FOSTER, 127 Hill street.

T. J. Evans sells Nerv-Worth in Newark. Neighborhood Nerv-Worth drug stores: The "Coca" Lucca, Howard's, Johnston's, Ulman's Granville.

114 EGGS A DAY NOW INSTEAD OF 25 A DAY

That Means About $105 Extra Income Per Month for Mrs. Ropp.

"I have 200 hens, including late pullets not old enough to lay, and had been getting 25 to 30 eggs a day. Then I tried Don Sung in the feed, and am now getting 114 eggs a day." — Mrs. Essie B. Ropp, R. R. 2, Little, Ind.

Mrs. Ropp got this increase of 17 dozen eggs a day in the middle of winter. At 50 cents a dozen, 20 days a month, this makes $105 extra income a month. The Don Sung for her 200 hens cost her about $2.50 per month. You can see how well it paid her, and we'll guarantee it will pay you. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrill-Duggan Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.
